

"Cranberry Harvest Hike & Off-Road Trek"

Sunday October 4, 2020

Gather at 11:30am – Hike begins at 12 noon – Trek will begin at 1pm

In association with the Whitesbog Preservation Trust

If you own a Cayenne, Macan, SUV/Truck/Jeep, Track, Car Tow Vehicle or any 4 wheel drive vehicle, this is the event for you. Come experience Harvest time at Whitesbog Village with a guided tour of the Cranberry Harvest and a short "Off-Road Trek" on some of the same trails used on the Pine Barren Off-Road Excursion

Whitesbog Preservation Trust is one of the only public places in New Jersey during 2020 that will be leading guided tours of Cranberry Harvesting. We will be social distancing and that when in close proximity to others (i.e. less than 6 feet), you will be required to wear a mask.

As always, you will see cranberries on the tour but we cannot guarantee that wet harvesting and floating cranberries will be visible. We are respectful of the farmers and give them space to work, so we recommend you bring binoculars or a long lens camera to catch the action. We will try and get you as close as possible.

Most tours will require walking 1 mile or so, but there are places to pull one car over if you need to drive to the locations.

Tours also include cranberry farming features of Whitesbog Historic Village, vintage labels and local cranberry products including salsa, jams and chutneys at the Whitesbog General Store. All tour proceeds benefit the nonprofit that maintains and promotes the historic village! There will be no refunds.

The Cranberry Harvest Hike is $10.00 per person & The Off-Road Trek hosted by NNJR-PCA is free

Select the October 4, 2020 – 12pm Hike

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/cranberry-harvest-hikes-tickets-122261568643>

Gather at Whitesbog Village Parking lot at 11:30AM
120 West Whites Bogs Road, Browns Mills, NJ 08015

If the hike is sold out do not be concerned NNJR-PCA walk-ins are welcome – just pay in cash the day of the event.

Please drop Peter Schneider "Trek Master" an email at OffRoad@NNJR-PCA.COM
Or call Peter at 908-938-8750 to confirm your entry